ALONE

NEW 12 TRACK CD ALBUM

ALONE is a new solo album from Alan Fennah, founder member of the UK band Alternative Radio, which formed in 1982. The band signed to EMI's Parlophone record label in 1983. Since then, the band have released several albums and singles in the UK.

ALONE was written, produced and performed by Alan during the national lockdown of 2020.

'It's a great album!' Billy Butler

Alan said: 'I had a lot of time on my hands during the lockdown. So, I decided to revisit songs that I had written but not recorded. Some were older songs that did not fit with the genre of Alternative Radio and others were new songs written during the lockdown. I soon realised I had enough for a twelve-track album. As my brother Rob and I were unable to perform or write together I started recording them 'alone'. The whole project kept me busy during the Covid 19 pandemic. In June 2020, I released a digital only version, for download, as there was no way to get the album manufactured due to national restrictions. I had to wait 12 months before it was possible to release the physical CD version of the album'.

During the 12 months between the digital release and the physical CD release, Alan was contacted by the European Space Agency (ESA) who had heard his instrumental track, featured on the album, entitled: 'One Small Step'. They loved the music and asked his permission to use it on their upcoming 'Space Care' campaign. Alan agreed and composed a special remix of the track which can be heard on the ESA

Alan said: 'I was thrilled when ESA contacted me. I've been an amateur astronomer for many years and 'One Small Step' brought together my love of music and astronomy. I was great to work on the project!'
